Donors to ATR feel very strongly about the current tax code: it needs to be changed! They support a flat, universal tax rate that will simplify the convoluted current system. ATR donors believe that all Americans should be able to keep the money that they earn and that the government has no right to seize it, and they strongly oppose the death tax and senior taxes levied on Social Security benefits.

ATR encourages Senators and Representatives to limit the government's ability to tax by asking them to sign Taxpayer Protection Pledges. It was founded in 1985 by Grover Norquist at the request of President Ronald Reagan.
