This organization is devoted to spreading the GOP's message to college students and, through them, to all Americans. The CRNC does not charge its student membership any dues or fees, instead relying upon the support of these concerned Republican donors. Their donations help the CRNC to counter the liberal slander so prevalent in academic circles and deliver a true picture of the Republican Party and its platform to college students at campuses across the country. CRNC members actively work on grassroots projects to recruit and mobilize voters and promote President Bush's conservative agenda.
